

MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR ENDED 31 MARCH 2024

Jet2 plc and its group companies including Jet2holidays Limited and Jet2.com Limited (the 'Group'), recognise that modern slavery and human trafficking are significant issues presenting a challenge for businesses worldwide. Consequently, the Group has a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and is committed to: acting ethically and with integrity in its business dealings; and continually reviewing its practices to combat slavery and human trafficking.

The Group has prepared this statement to reflect activities undertaken in the financial year ended 31 March 2024 in accordance with the UK's Modern Slavery Act.

Our Business

The Group is a Leisure Travel business specialising in:

- the provision of ATOL licensed package holidays by its tour operator, Jet2holidays, to leisure destinations in the Mediterranean, the Canary Islands and to European Leisure Cities; and
- the provision of scheduled holiday flights by its airline, Jet2.com.

Our long-term ambition is: To be the UK's Leading and Best Leisure Travel business. To achieve this, we recognise our future growth must continue to be sustainable, ethical and responsible, which includes the treatment of people not only within our own operations, but also those within our broader supply chains. We remain aware of the risks associated with modern slavery and human trafficking and continue to develop our policies, due diligence, and training to ensure the steps we take to prevent both, remain as effective as possible. With this in mind, tackling modern slavery is included as one of our "social value performance metrics" within the Group's updated Sustainability Strategy which can be found at found at: www.jet2plc.com/sustainability.

Preventing slavery and trafficking within our business

We consider our Colleagues to be our most valuable asset as we recognise that the wellbeing and motivation of them is pivotal to achieving our award-winning Customer First service.

We have robust recruitment, remuneration and resource management policies and processes to prevent any form of slavery, exploitation, or trafficking within our business, and we review and confirm that colleagues, contractors and agency workers can demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK before commencing work with the Group.

Our Glassdoor rating of 4.1 out of 5.0 remains the highest in our industry and serves as an important barometer in gauging the happiness and engagement of our workforce.

Preventing slavery and trafficking within our supply chains

The Group has over 8,000 suppliers and sources its goods and services globally and will not knowingly conduct business with anyone engaged in slavery and human trafficking practices or knowingly permit them to be carried out in any part of its business.

The Group promotes transparency in its supply chains and has implemented measures to reduce the risk of slavery and human trafficking including:

- Asking prospective suppliers to confirm the actions they take to prevent child labour and modern slavery as part of the standard tender questions which form part of the overall evaluation of each supplier's proposal. In addition, the standard supplier terms and conditions include applicable anti-slavery provisions and similar protection has been secured in relevant supply arrangements.

- We identify, monitor and assess potential risk areas in our supply chains, and maintain a register of areas within our supply chain which we consider represent a higher a risk of slavery and human trafficking, along with details of appropriate mitigation measures. In particular:
 - A number of our uniform garments are supplied by factories in Asia and the Indian sub-continent, and the Group works collaboratively with those suppliers to improve supply chain standards. Our suppliers are active members of Sedex (Suppliers Ethical Data Exchange) and proactively share audit results to drive improvement. In addition, we visit our suppliers to see the factories and working conditions first-hand.
 - Our Jet2 Travel Technologies development centre, based in Pune, India, now employs over 300 Colleagues increasing the Group’s capacity to progress our many industry-leading IT innovations and business critical development projects. It operates recruitment and procurement policies and procedures in line with those of the Jet2 plc Group and has policies such as code of conduct, maternity, prevention of sexual harassment as well as strict compliance to local labour and welfare regulations to ensure that the standard of employee welfare exceeds the regulatory norms and the overall industry benchmarks. Jet2Travel Technologies is a “Great Place to Work – Certified” organisation which signifies its people practices and employee welfare practices are at par with industry best practices. We monitor Jet2 Travel Technologies’ activity on an ongoing basis through regular team visits to Pune, full visibility of all expenditure and having Group representatives on the Board of Directors of Jet2Travel Technologies.
- We have introduced our Certified Sustainable Hotels collection to give our Customers the option to choose accommodation that meets an official global standard for sustainability as part of their Jet2holidays package with us. As of 31 March 2024, there were 950 Certified Sustainable Hotels, and the number continues to grow. These hotels have been assessed by an independent organisation, whose standards are either recognised by the Global Sustainable Tourism Council (GSTC) or the organisation itself has been accredited by the GSTC. In addition to environmental aspects, the standards also cover criteria focussed on maximizing social and economic benefits for the local community, including that the organization has implemented a policy against commercial, sexual or any other form of exploitation or harassment, particularly of children, adolescents, women, minorities and other vulnerable groups, and that labour rights are respected, a safe and secure working environment is provided and employees are paid at least a living wage. More information on our Certified Sustainable Hotels can be found here: www.jet2holidays.com/sustainable-hotels.

Our Supplier Code of Conduct (most recently updated in April 2024) is published on our Jet2 plc website (here) and sets out the minimum standards, expectations and behaviours that Jet2.com and Jet2holidays require of all our Suppliers, including in relation to slavery, human trafficking and child labour. Our Supplier Code of Conduct has been distributed to our existing suppliers and is introduced to new suppliers through our standard tender documentation and in our standard supplier terms and conditions.

The Group also has in place the following internal policies reflecting its commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all its business relationships:

- Responsible Procurement Statement;

Training

To ensure Colleagues have a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business, we assist them by providing relevant training in identifying and preventing exploitation.

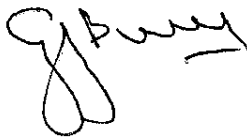

Our cabin crew manual includes human trafficking reporting procedures and details of the Modern Slavery reporting helpline. We also ensure that training on human trafficking is delivered to cabin crew through new entrant and recurrent training. In addition, posters are displayed in crew rooms and rest areas across our bases to raise awareness of both issues.

In addition, a section on slavery and human trafficking is included in our internal training for colleagues in supplier management.

Our effectiveness in combating slavery and human trafficking

The Group has a clear framework of rules and behaviours and encourages the reporting of any concerns or breaches so that they can be dealt with appropriately in accordance with our policies and procedures. We also offer an independent and confidential Whistleblowing hotline where Colleagues can raise concerns confidentially and anonymously if they wish.
